Description

The Green E1 stacking crate, also known as a meat crate, is an essential tool in the food industry due to its optimal properties for storing and transporting food items. With dimensions of 600 x 400 x H 125 mm, this crate offers ample space for a variety of products while remaining manageable.

Manufactured from high-quality, 100% new material, these green E1 crates meet the strictest standards for food safety. The closed bottom and sidewalls ensure secure storage, protecting food from contamination and damage during transport. This guarantees not only the quality and freshness of the products but also compliance with hygiene regulations.
