Description

The grey E1 stacking crate, also known as a meat crate, is a reliable choice for various applications in the food industry, thanks to its properties focused on efficient storage and transportation. With dimensions of 600 x 400 x H 125 mm, this crate offers ample space for various types of food items while remaining manageable.

Made from high-quality, 100% new material, these grey E1 crates meet the highest standards for food safety. The closed bottom and closed sidewalls provide optimal protection for stored products, ensuring they are safe from external contaminants and damage during transportation. This not only guarantees the quality and freshness of the products but also ensures compliance with strict hygiene regulations.
